REPORTING SEXUAL VIOLENCE

(dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking)

The decision to report the crime is the decision of the complainant. The complainant has the right to choose to pursue criminal prosecution, college judicial action or both, or may decide to take no action. However, any observed non-consensual sexual activity must be reported by the observer of such activity to Public Safety and the Title IX Coordinator.

Complainants who make good faith complaints are protected from retaliation pursuant to this procedure, the College's policy against sexual harassment and the College's Whistleblower Policy. Any retaliation against an individual who has complained about sexual assault or sexual violence, or retaliation against individuals for cooperating with an investigation of a complaint of sexual assault or sexual violence, is a violation of this policy.

INTERVENTION/IMMEDIATE RESPONSE: IF A COMPLAINANT COMES TO YOU

- + Make sure the complainant is no longer in danger and is in a safe place.
- + Inform the complainant of his or her right to contact law enforcement and/or public safety officials.
- + Recommend immediate medical attention if the assault occurred within the last 72 hours. If the complainant has been raped, the complainant should have a complete medical exam to help identify physical injury and disease. The complainant should be advised not to bathe or douche as this will destroy evidence that may support a legal case against an assailant. This should be done whether or not the complainant has decided to report the incident to law enforcement so that the complainant preserves evidence while giving consideration to options. In cases requiring emergency care, contact local emergency services by calling 911.
- + If the assault occurred more than 72 hours before the report, all of the above procedures may still apply, except for the collection of evidence. Medical attention is still needed to check for injuries, sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy. Medical attention does not need to occur at a hospital. The complainant may seek care at a location of his/her choice.

COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

A complainant is encouraged to contact any person they trust. Any representative of the College or designated responsible employee (president, vice presidents, deans, directors, coaches, counselors, advisors and all members of human resources, public safety and student affairs) who is contacted about sexual assault may, with the victim's permission, contact the following departments:

Central Campus Department of Public Safety: 215-641-6666

Pottstown Borough Police Department: 610-970-6572

Towamencin Police Department: 215-368-7600

West Campus Department of Public Safety: 610-718-1913

Whitpain Township Police Department: 610-279-9033

TITLE IX

Any representative of the College or designated responsible employee (president, vice presidents, deans, directors, coaches, counselors, advisors and all members of human resources, public safety and student affairs) who is contacted about sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking, must also contact the College's Title IX Coordinator. All complaints of sexual violence or assault, even if made anonymously or confidentially, must be brought to the immediate attention of the College's Title IX Coordinator.

The Title IX Coordinator for the College is the Director of Equity and Diversity Initiatives: 215-619-7383

PROCEDURES FOR ON-CAMPUS DISCIPLINARY ACTION

POSSIBLE SANCTIONS

The College does not tolerate sexual misconduct in any form. Where there is reason to believe that the College's regulations prohibiting sexual assault have been violated, the College will pursue disciplinary action. Should a student be found in violation of the College's policies, sanctions will be imposed, including but not limited to, suspension or expulsion from the College. Employees are also susceptible to all possible sanctions, up to and including termination of employment.

RIGHTS OF COMPLAINANTS AND RESPONDENTS

- + A complainant shall be informed of options to notify law enforcement.
- + Complainants and respondents will be treated with dignity and respect and in a non-judgmental manner. Reports will be addressed as promptly and completely as feasible.
- + Complainants who report a sexual assault will, to the extent possible, not be charged with alcohol or drug use even if alcohol or drugs were involved.
- + Campus and community counseling services available to students will be provided.
- + Complainants and respondents will be afforded the opportunity to request immediate transfer of classes or other steps to prevent unnecessary or unwanted contact or proximity to an alleged assailant when reasonably available.
- + Complainants and respondents are entitled to know all evidence and testimony being utilized in decision making.
- + Complainants and respondents will be notified simultaneously and in writing of the outcome of Title IX proceedings. Both the complainant and respondent will be informed of their respective rights to appeal the decision. The imposition of sanctions normally will be deferred while appellate proceedings are pending, at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator.
